nineteen hundred sixty-seven

Hi Punk,

I don't really know how to start but I guess I'll have to somewhere. I can really say this has been one of the greatest years in my high school career. One of the biggest reasons it was so great is because of you. You are one of the sweetest and nicest girls I know. Never let anyone ever change you in any way. Next year I guess we'll have to part, you going off to school and me, well I don't know where I'll be but I hope we can keep in touch with each other. We have really had some great times in study hall with good ole Mrs. Williams telling me to get back in my right seat. I really enjoyed dating you more than anything else. We really had ^{some} great times. This period over I'll finish later. Well I just got home from work and I thought I would finish writing in your annual. Punkie, to me you are the greatest thing at Wadesboro High School. As I look back at all the moments we have been together I know I would have rather spent them with noone else but you. We have really had our ups and downs but I guess they have all turned out for the better. We have really had some great times together especially at the "beaver dam".

Kathryn if there is ever anything I can do for you or if there is any help you need in any way always turn to me. You are the sweetest and best looking girl I know and I know you will never have any trouble finding a boy friend because you could have any boy you want. Good luck to the sweetest and cutest ~~girl~~ I know. Remember, let noone ~~ever~~ change you.

With all my love,

P.S. See you at the beach

Ben

Kathryn,

I hope this page wasn't for any particular person, cause I'm writing on it!

Next year will be a lonely one for me with ^{you} in a private school! I hope you do well though! But its going to seem strange, turning around to confide my "problems" to you and facing a nigger girl!!

Kathryn, we have really "cried" on each others shoulders quite often - you're a dear friend and I seriously doubt that I'll ever be able to find a finer person to trust. Kathryn, you're one in a million and I hope that even if we are separated after this year - we will still remain best of friends! We've been through quite a lot together - Remember the beach? Especially when you reached West & I couldn't get Lee Roy! Brother!!

But seriously, you can succeed in anything you attempt and I wish you the best of Luck in any field you choose! You deserve the very best, Kathryn and please don't forget that!

Love,
Guy

May 4, 1967

Dear Kathryn,

This looks like our last year at old W&S, but we'll take many, many wonderful memories to remember with us wherever we end up. One thing, at least, we'll all still remain together (even if it will be by letters). We have to admit we have a great group of girls and I know I can honestly say, I've enjoyed every moment I've spent with each of you.

I do hope this summer we'll make it up to old Greenville "to visit your aunt?" this summer. We'll both have a good time dating I'm sure. Speaking of travel — what about the beach? This summer will be the greatest yet, just wait and see if what we hope happens happens.

I can't think of any trouble we've gotten into lately so I suppose I can't elaborate on it.

This certainly doesn't sum it all up, but as everybody well knows I'm not much good at any type of writing.

You've been a wonderful and sincere friend. Let's keep it that way?

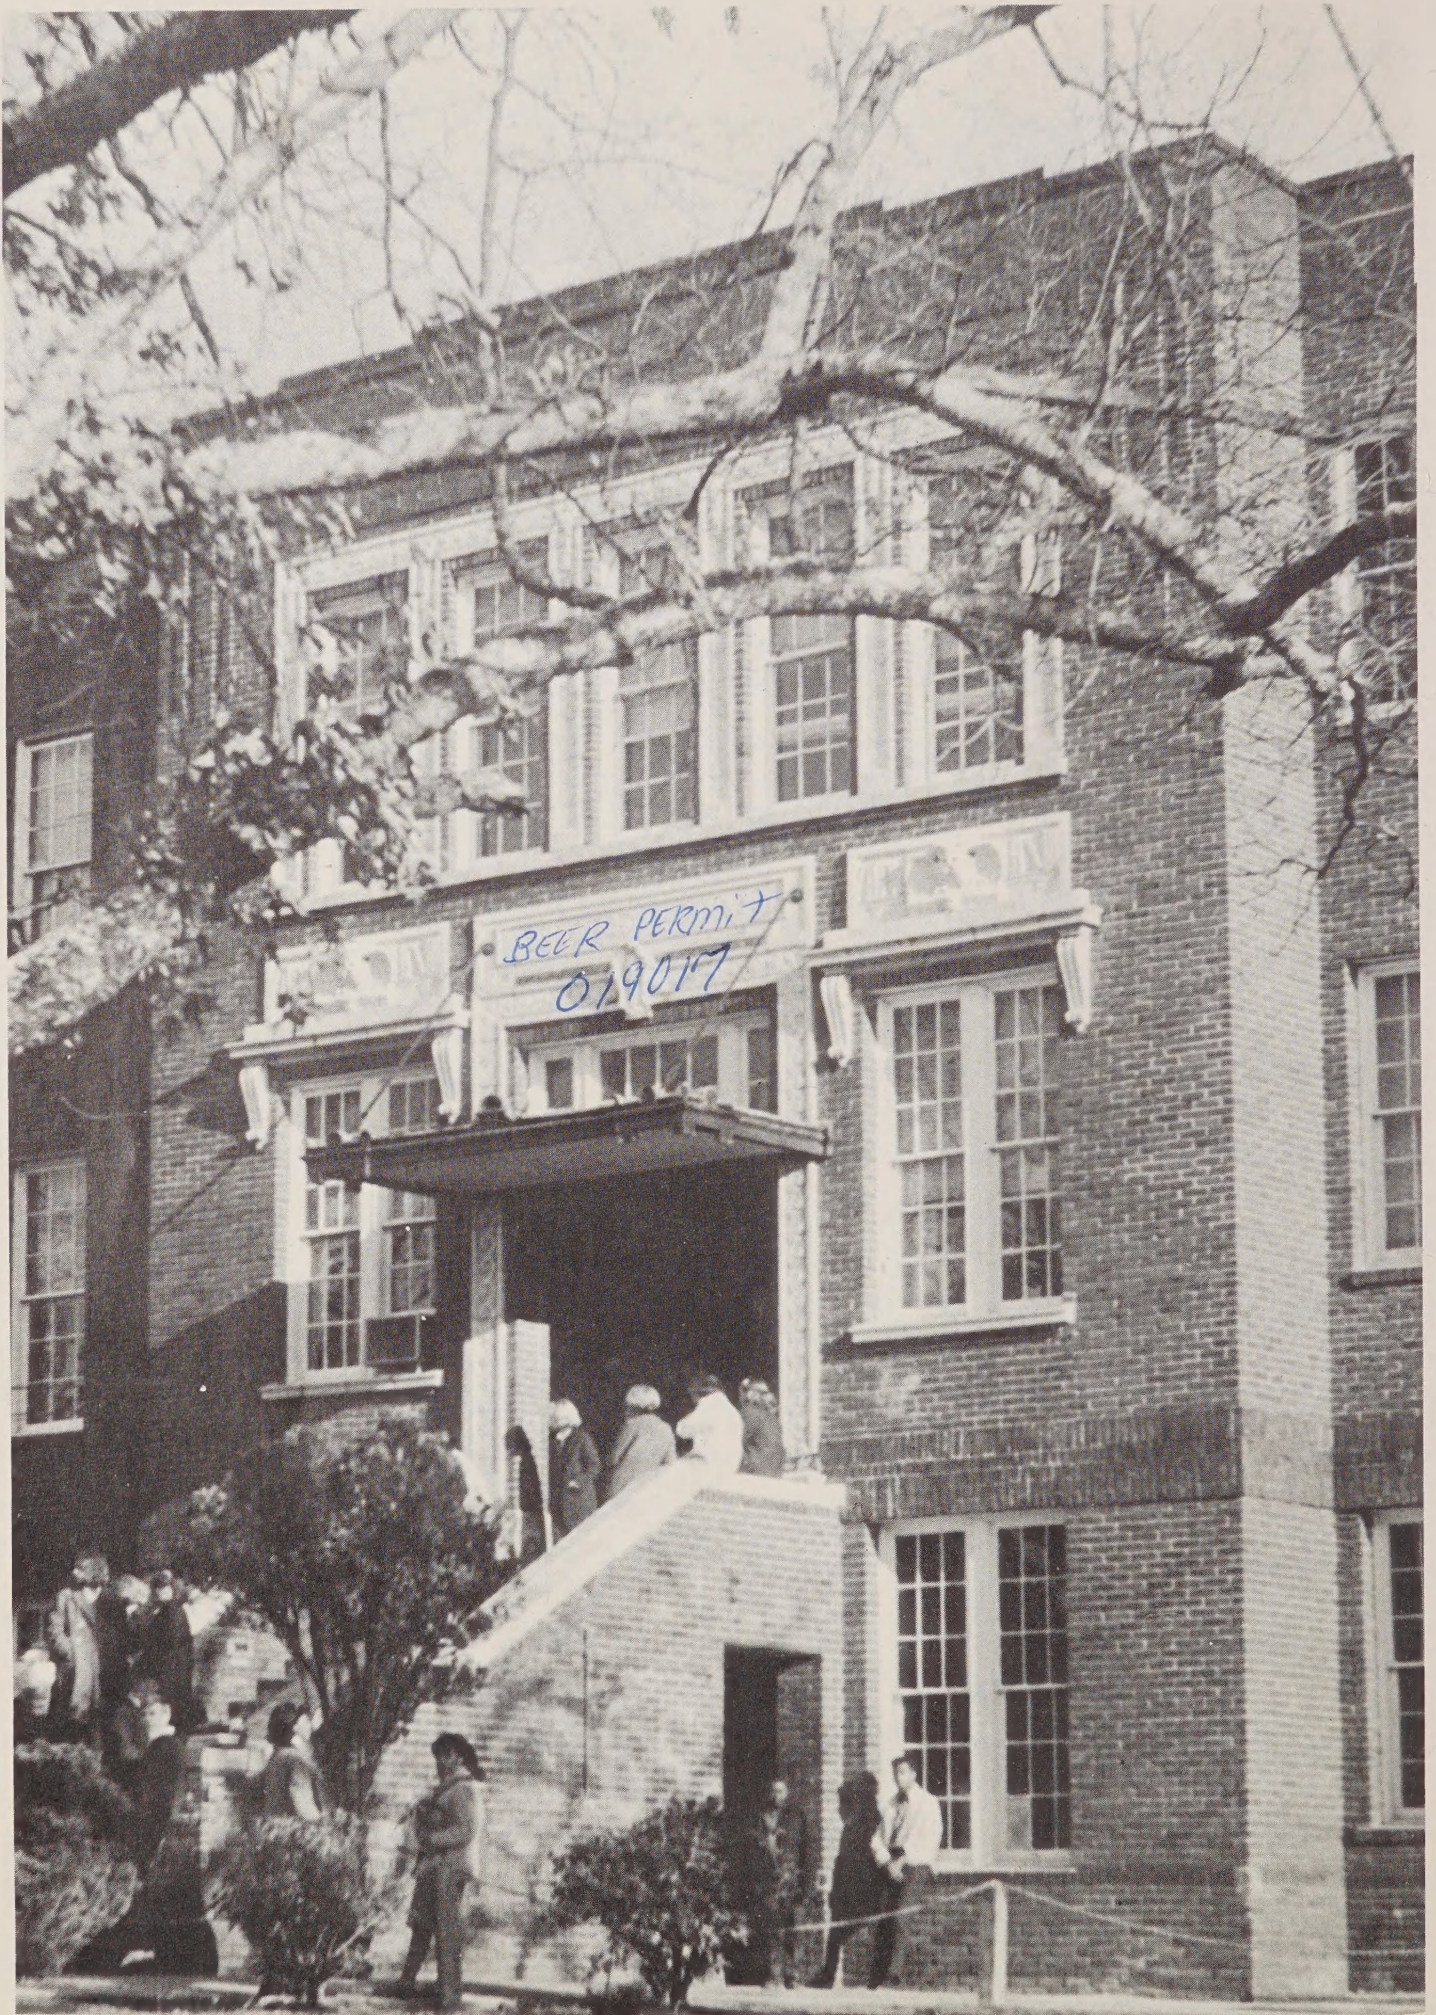

Love,
Adrienne

FOREWORD

As time goes by we, the students, pause to recall the memories of our past four years at Wadesboro High School. What to remember—what to forget—that is the question.

It seems to me that the good things, the guidance, the help that others have given us to keep the right path are the things to remember. The mistakes, the false leads, the devilish influences are the things to forget.

High School is a very important part of life. During the high school years many things have been gained. Some of them were habits, character, knowledge, and friends. As the saying goes: Sow a thought, reap an act; sow an act, reap a habit; sow a habit, reap a character; sow a character, reap a destiny—Nothing can take from you the memories of the fun, of the participation, of the work, and of the goals which high school has given you.

Let Fate do her worst;
there are relics of joy,
Bright dreams of the past, which she cannot destroy; Which come in the night-time of sorrow
and care,
And bring back the features that joy used to wear. Long, long be my heart with such memories filled, Like the vase in which roses have once been distilled—You may break,
you may shatter the vase if you will, But the scent of the roses will hang round it still.

Thomas Moore

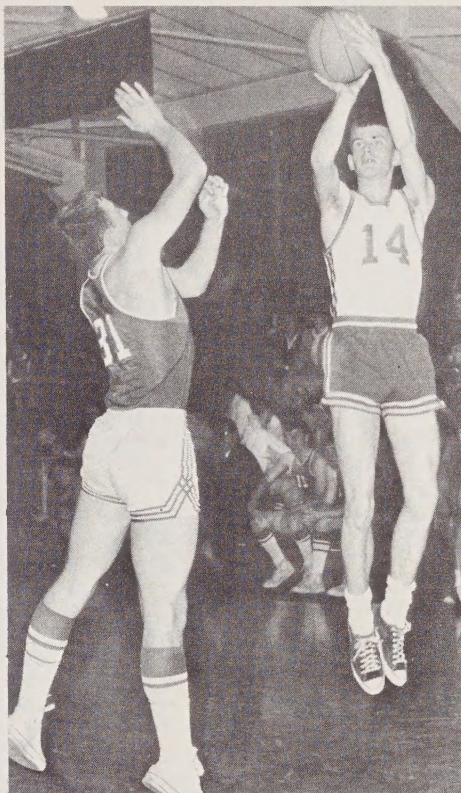

As the sand in our hour glass goes, and Father Time runs by we, the TIGER TALES staff, have tried to record a part of these memories in AS TIME GOES BY.

Perhaps you will follow William Butler Yeats as he wrote:

When you are old and gray and full of sleep,
And nodding by the fire, take down this book,
And slowly read and dream of the soft look
Your eyes had once, and of their shadows deep.

ALMA MATER

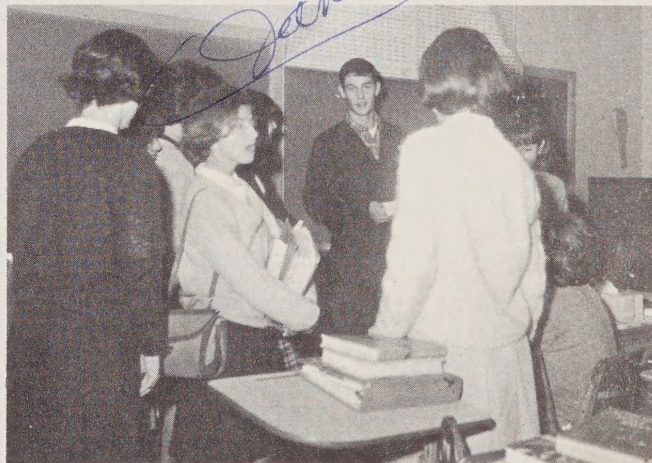

Dear Alma Mater,
Our praises forever we'll sing,
Dear Wadesboro High School,
Our trophies to you we'll bring.
Dear Alma Mater,
Your praises forever we'll sing,
Dear Wadesboro High School,
Our trophies to you we'll bring.
Dear Alma Mater,
To you we will ever be true,
Dear Wadesboro High School,
Our hearts will linger with you.

In the last four together have made the last four years fly by for the seniors.

DEDICATION

For the devotion of your time, talent, and wit,

For your extra help in tutoring the students who need assistance beyond the classroom,

For your sense of fair play,

For your strong voice which is a familiar sound to every student at Wadesboro High School. . .it either forces them to quietness, or nudges them to laughter,

For your quest for further knowledge,

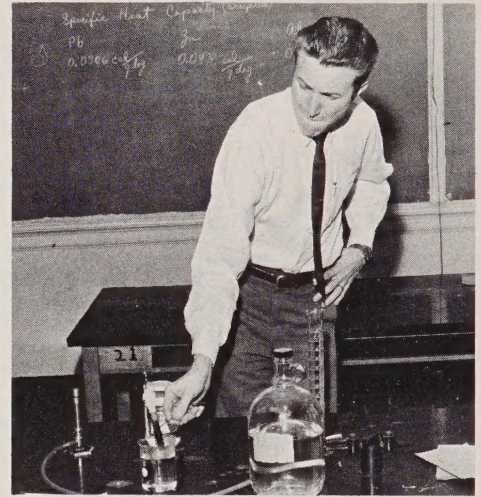

For carrying out your duties as a teacher and Junior Class sponsor in a conscientious and friendly way,

And for your personality and warm sense of humor which have placed you in the hearts of your students,

We, the Senior Class, sincerely dedicate the 1967 Tiger Tales to you—

ACADEMICS

It was once said that the demand that life makes on all of us is to be ready at all times, to live neither in the past nor in the future but in the present. "As Time Goes By" our school takes the responsibility of preparing us for this life. During our four years of high school we are asked to do our best, not because our work is worth it, but because we are. Whatever we are doing we are building the men of the future. Half-hearted work makes only half a man. Slipshod methods mean loose principles. The only way to keep character up to the standard is by continually living up to the highest standard in all that we do. Our school helps us to develop good character, good methods, and the determination to do good work. Samuel Smiles said that no good thing is ever lost. No good action, no good example dies. It lives forever.

ADMINISTRATION

SUPERINTENDENT

Mr. W. L. Wildermuth

Mr. Wildermuth as superintendent of our school leads us through the years. Because of his interest in every school member, his guidance is very meaningful to us.

SCHOOL BOARD

Realizing that the community cannot be a desirable place in which to live without good schools, the Wadesboro City School Board is concerned with the success of the school system.

Mr. W. L. Wildermuth, Mr. J. D. McLeod, Mr. F. C. Allen, Mr. Jimmy Hardison, Mrs. Alvin Butler, Mrs. Fred M. Mills, Jr., Mr. C. L. Little.

ENGLISH

Recognizing that the English Department is the hub of the curriculum, the instructors of this subject strive to teach basic skills and to establish the fundamentals of good English. Through the medium of grammar, composition, speech, and literature, students establish contact with the world of material that is to be read, studied, and enjoyed. Students gain insight and understanding of human nature, and the ideals revealed often may be of real and lasting value to them as time goes by.

Freshmen struggled through their first English composition and "Great Expectations". Sophomores will never forget memorizing Mark Antony's speech from "Julius Caesar" nor will the Through outside reading students gain literary skills.

Seniors forget the many passages from "Macbeth". Vocabulary seemed to go on and on with no end. Research materials were essential for getting through a year of English for juniors and seniors. All students learned, reviewed, and drilled verbs, tenses, and punctuation. Composition work of the creative type, class discussions, and book reviews were an important part of each class.

Perhaps we shall never learn it all; but our students endeavor each year to eliminate the common faults in composition, oral and written, and try to become skilled in writing, speaking, and listening. These are the goals of our English department as we prepare for college and more work in English.

Advanced Junior English students study a Shakespearean play.

Students use the library as a source for outside reading and special reports.

In advanced Senior English students learn about common mistakes made in spelling.

Students learn the fundamentals of algebra in their class of Algebra I. Here Mr. Clayton Johnson discusses the homework problems of his Algebra I class.

"As Time Goes By", the field of mathematics becomes more and more important in everyday life. With the emphasis that is placed on mathematics in today's modern world, Wadesboro High School is extremely fortunate in the scope of its math program. The skilled and well-trained teachers who make up this department are always ready to aid students who are eager to learn.

Courses in every aspect of mathematics are available in the curriculum for students whose desire and interest lead them to this particular study. The curriculum includes general math, Algebra I and II, geometry, trigonometry, and Advanced Algebra.

SCIENCE

The study of science is necessary in order to prepare us for the changes which daily discoveries bring about. These discoveries which are being made help to make our lives easier and more enjoyable.

The field of science is much too extensive to be properly studied under a general topic. This is one of the main reasons why five distinct science courses are offered at Wadesboro High School. These courses are physical science, biology, chemistry, physics and home economics.

Physical science teaches students the basic background to all sciences.

In home economics girls learn what sciences can be used in the home and how to make the best use of them. The basic principles of cooking and sewing are taught to benefit the future homemaker.

The structure of the body is taught in biology. In this class students learn how to take the best care of themselves.

Advanced Biology takes the students deeper into the study of biology. They perform many experimental studies in the lab.

Interest as well as the ability determines the student's choice of subject. Regardless of the course a student decides to pursue, he can always learn more about the things he has for so long taken for granted. Science is the future, and anyone who understands any portion of this vast field holds a key to success "As Time Goes By".

In physics there are many labs and demonstrations proving certain theories. Here the law of the pendulum is being proved.

In chemistry students become well acquainted with the use of the Periodic Chart. They also enjoy experimenting with chemicals in the lab.

SOCIAL

In the field of social studies, the status for graduation requires United States history and two other courses such as civics, world history, or sociology and economics.

Social studies trains for American Citizenship, stresses the value of the individual, and develops tolerance of other nationalities, creeds and religions.

United States history teaches the students important facts about their own country. Using maps students learn to identify important land areas. MY GOD! THERE'S MONROE!

In civics students learn about the government which runs our country. This helps them to understand the different phases of the government.

STUDIES

Challenging and interesting assignments make the subject matter "come alive".

Discussions and oral and written reports also enrich textbook facts in the social studies department.

In world history, students participate in leading the class in discussions while learning about world events.

Sociology and economics teaches the students their obligations to their country. They carry on heated debates about their duties to their country.

Students soon learn in Latin that it is not a dead language. The conjugation of verbs is mastered during the first year.

Although the prime objective is communication, modern foreign language study seeks to include cultural knowledge and appreciation as time goes by. The language scholar can learn from the past while becoming a better citizen of the world. An appreciation of the life, the social and economic customs, and the civilization of a nation are considered with an effort towards abolishing prejudices in the language department.

In French I learning the language is just part of the course. Students also learn much about the country of France and the customs of its people.

LANGUAGE

French is important because we are gaining a closer relationship with French-speaking countries.

Latin is no longer a spoken language, but it is very important to the student since sixty per cent of our own language is derived from Latin. The study of Latin is vital to those who want to understand the literature of the Romans and to gain appreciation of the ancient culture which is the tap root of our society.

French III students are able to carry on lengthy discussions. Studying lessons provided for the students and listening to tape-recorded conversations help the students greatly.

French II students increase their knowledge by watching films provided for the school.

HEALTH AND

Both boys and girls are taught good health habits in the Physical Education Department. They learn what daily exercises are needed to keep their bodies physically fit and how to do them correctly. They are also taught the funda-

Girls' Physical Education

Boys' Physical Education

Freshmen boys learn many new sports and healthful exercises in their physical education classes. The boys find that work and play can be combined in very enjoyable ways.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

P.O.O. teaches the skills needed in office work with work on machines.

Business education equips students with skills necessary for employment in the business world. Typing, shorthand and preparatory office occupations develop the student's ability to apply their skills in office employment. Enthusiastic students work hard each day to master these subjects as progress is essential.

Typing is a course needed by all college bound students, as well as the business students.

Correct procedures and specialized techniques are built through drills, intensive practice, and a review of fundamentals. The P. O. O. course provides the students with a basic knowledge of the principles of office procedures and equipment, thus the students see each step and its relation to the whole. In the shorthand class students develop their ability to recognize sounds and to record quickly the sounds they hear.

New listening stations aid shorthand students in their work.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The Industrial Arts Department helps a boy to learn a trade through experience. Mr. David Kephart heads this department which offers shop for those interested in woodworking and mechanical drawing for those interested in drafting.

In Shop I boys learn how to work with wood.

In electronics Mr. Kephart demonstrates equipment.

Mechanical drawing prepares students for college drafting and engineering. In electronics, also offered at W. H. S., the students study theory and also practice on kits and projects.

Handwritten text: a stick figure with a smiley face and the name 'Fred'.

In mechanical drawing boys learn the basic fundamentals of this art.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

Distributive Education prepares students for a career immediately after graduation. This subject strives to promote business knowledge and skills, to develop leadership and responsibility, to teach principles of democracy, and to encourage high ethical standards in business and industry.

Mr. Clayton discusses the stock turnover in his D.E. class. In distributive education students learn much about the business world. They study such things as the different parts of a company, and how it is run.

ACTIVITIES

"Variety is the spice of life." That is an age-old cliché but one that seldom wears out during high school. Activities are an integral part of the typical high school student's life today.

For every student's interest or ability, there is a club or organization where he may direct his energy.

When young people get together, something educational and enjoyable usually happens. The organizations at Wadesboro High are full of energetic young people.

Many organizations honor the school's excellent students for their work. Clubs are always busy learning about people, places, and things.

All-year-round activities form a branch of wisdom which provides a deviation from the ordinary routine. Fun, relaxation, service, and added knowledge are the properties which make this a firm and lasting branch of our school.

The tree that never had to fight
For sun and sky and air and light;
That stood out in the open plain
And always got its share of rain,
Never became a forest king,
But lived and died a scrubby thing.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year's Student Council, under the direction of Mr. Jack Heisler, is one of the most active organizations in our school. Two outstanding students from each homeroom are chosen to serve with this group.

The main purpose of this organization is to improve the relationship between the students and faculty, to promote the ideas and desires of the students, and to co-ordinate all other clubs of the school.

One of the highlights near the end of each school year is Annual Day. A deserving teacher receives the dedication, and the color of the annual is known at last. Few realize how much work is done on one page, how much time is spent trying to find just the right word for a write-up, and how many tears are shed when we realize that the deadline cannot be met.

Despite the heartache, however, there is a bright side of the story. We are made more aware of the importance of co-operation and of knowing we have done our best.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

Future Homemakers of America is one of the school's largest organizations. Any student who has taken a home economics course is eligible to be a member of the organization.

Among several objectives, the club strives to promote appreciation for homemaking and to encourage international good will.

Suzanne Eddins, president of the club, leads the girls through one of their regular meetings. The club usually presents skits, fashion shows, or guest speakers at its meetings.

Here some of the girls learn how to set an attractive table.

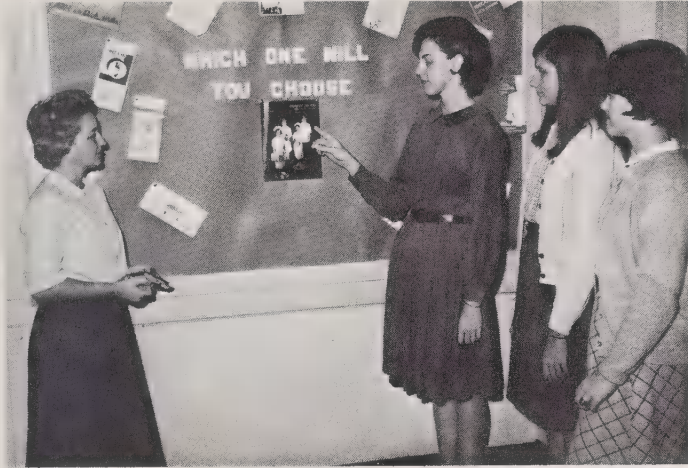

Occasionally they prepare refreshments to serve at their meetings.

HEALTH CAREERS

The Health Careers Club tries to bring together young people interested in medical careers. Club members meet every four weeks headed by their adviser Mrs. Helen Dunlap to share their interests, to explore opportunities and requirements in different medical fields, to grow as individuals by working together and to learn about community life in which they will soon participate as citizens.

Members of the club are often taught the techniques of a typical routine of a doctor's office.

The officers of the Health Careers Club lead the members of the club through a year of interesting programs. This year the club hopes to enroll some of its members in the hospital working as candy strippers. This will give students a chance to see if they are really interested in health careers.

MIXED CHORUS

The mixed chorus enjoys doing many musical arrangements including "The Sound of Music". They work studiously preparing numbers for concerts given throughout the year. The club meets daily in two sections during second and third periods but combines for concerts. The members sing all types of music from sacred to popular in an effort to please all age groups.

Mr. Wayne Davis and the band spent sixth period everyday polishing up for these concerts. There were many new songs to learn and bring to perfection as well as some old ones to brush up on. The student body takes pride in the W.H.S. Band and its many accomplishments. The band can be depended upon to give sparkling performances and superb entertainment whether marching on a football field or giving a Christmas concert.

CHEER LEADERS

"Go Tigers" is the yell that has been sounded at the ballgames by the cheerleaders. The devoted varsity cheerleaders, headed by Candy Wagner, steadily served the school this year and have made great contributions to the school spirit at Wadesboro High.

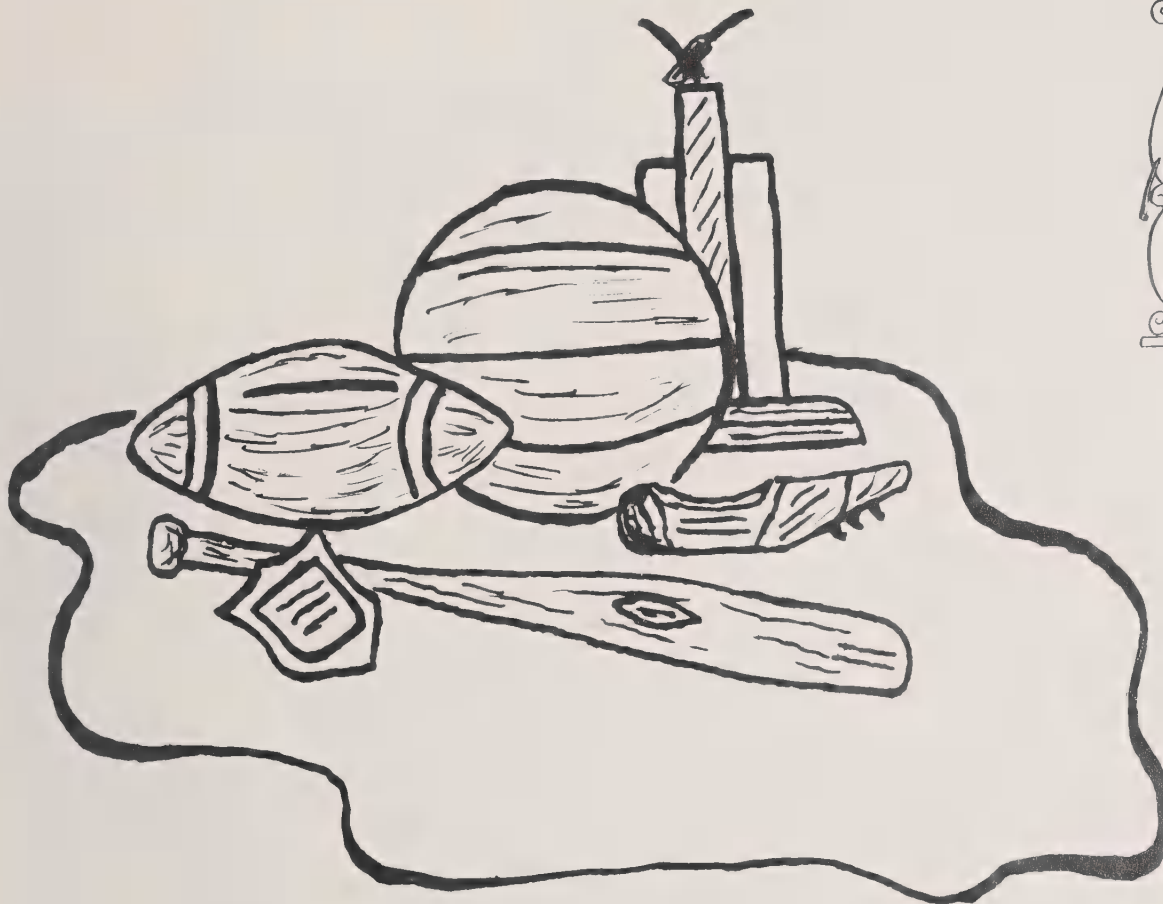

CENTER: Candy Wagner, Chief;
LEFT: Adele Cox, Penny Potter,
Jill Jenkins, Lou Tillman, RIGHT:
Kathryn McLeod, Glenda Jenkins,
Jerrie Bailey, Sissy Gray.

The cheerleaders have added much life to athletic events by holding pep rallies and making posters. Through victory or defeat their smiling faces and friendly attitudes have added spark to the team.

LEFT: Joyce Warner, Martha Jo Tarlton, Carol Benton, Tina Williams, Chief; Leah Watson, Claudia Hathcock, Sandra Still, Kay Howell.

The school is also proud of the junior-varsity cheerleaders. These girls have acted as ambassadors while away from home.

SPORTS

"As Time Goes By" who will forget the grandeur of the gymnasium and the glory of the gridiron. From the class of 1967 came athletes disciplining their bodies and uniting their spirits for the team's sake. Let the records show not only the won-lost totals of the mighty Tiger teams but also that here were born men and women who won with honor and kept their dignity in defeat. As this year has flown by these school members have been endowed with the natural ability and determination necessary to be a good athlete. Not only the players, but also the spectators, have been trained to be highly competitive and well-mannered. Everyone has to have stamina and energy to participate in W. H. S. athletics.

For some boys August was not a matter of swimming and loafing, but was a month filled with hard work.

Starting the season on August 15 boys made St. Andrews College their residence for one week. Beginning Monday through Saturday the Tigers completed three practices a day.

Though it was a demanding and tiring schedule for the team to follow, it paved the way for a great football season at W.H.S.

Although slow getting started, the Tigers began to come on strong and were defeated only twice in conference play.

Not too much fun!

The seniors put many hours of hard work into this float.

The climax to the zestful season of football was Homecoming. Major activities began with the floats, then the parade. Sponsors and the Queen were honored at the game's halftime show. A dance in the gymnasium ended the festivities looked forward to so long and over so soon.

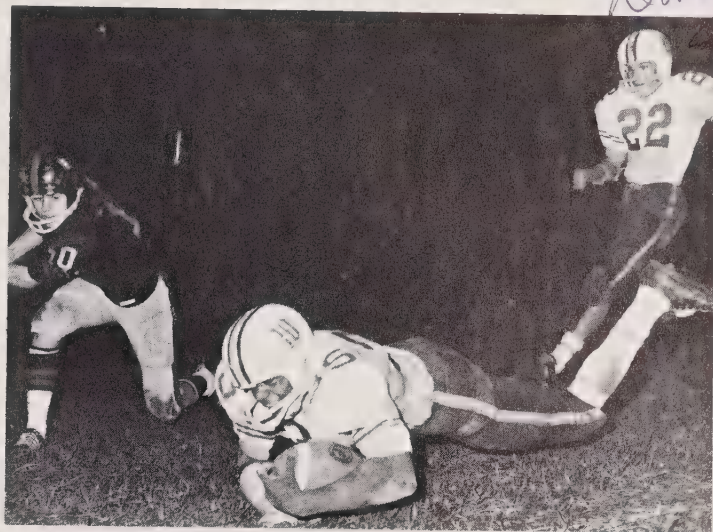

The pep rally made spirits enthusiastic before the big game.

1966 BOYS'

Roland

Backbone of team

FIRST ROW: Billy Moore, Captain; Ed McCrae, Tommy Guiton, David Covington, Roland Scott, Bill Snyder. SECOND ROW: Arthur Richardson, Joe Phillips, Bill Hightower, Don Roche, Ike Hilliard, George Knotts, Coach Bill Thacker.

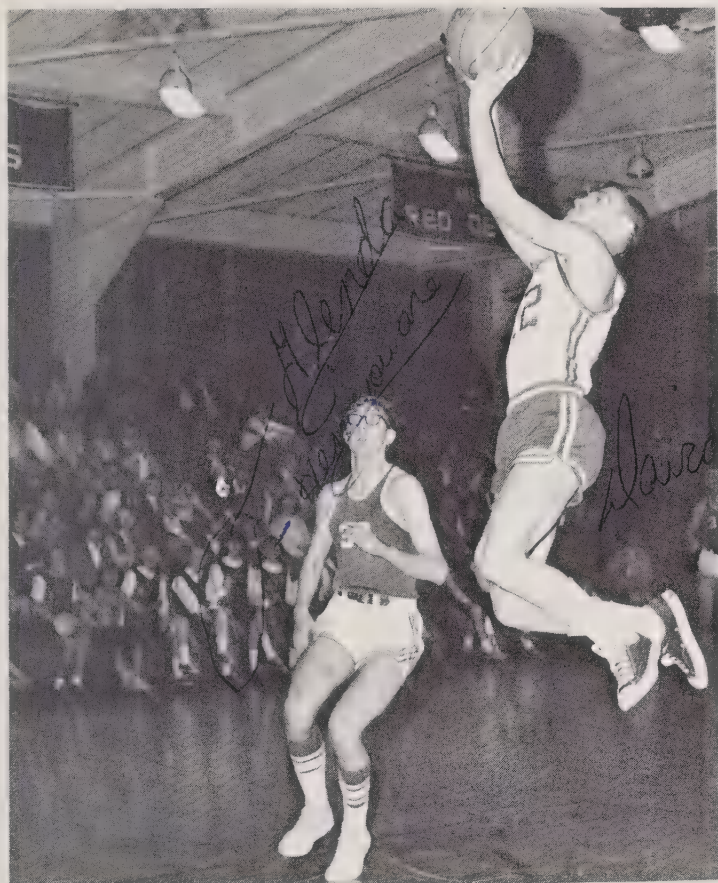

Moore really jumps to get those rebounds.

There were many thrilling moments as the Tigers encountered one team after another. The team showed steady improvement as the season went on.

The boys worked long and hard with Coach Thacker to produce a team worthy of attention. Whether they were perfecting the hook-shot or retrieving the jump-ball, they did it enthusiastically.

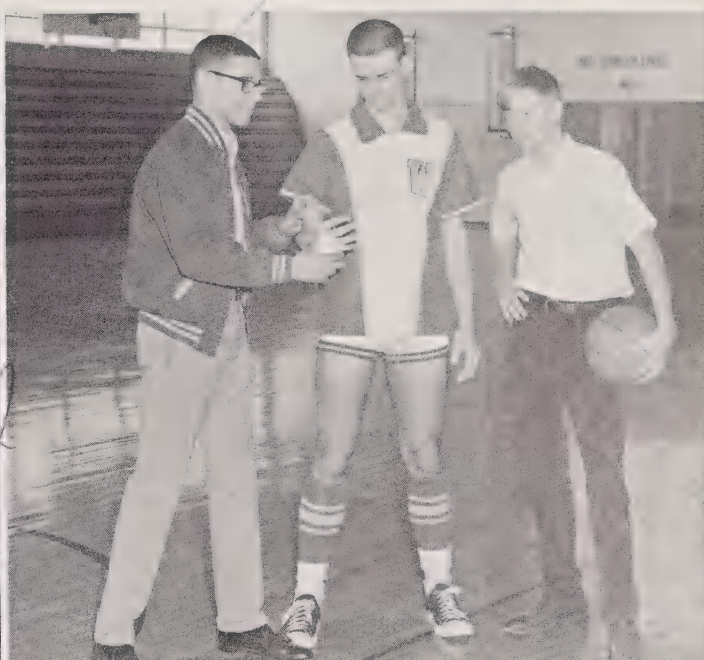

BASKETBALL

Covington leaps high for a field goal.

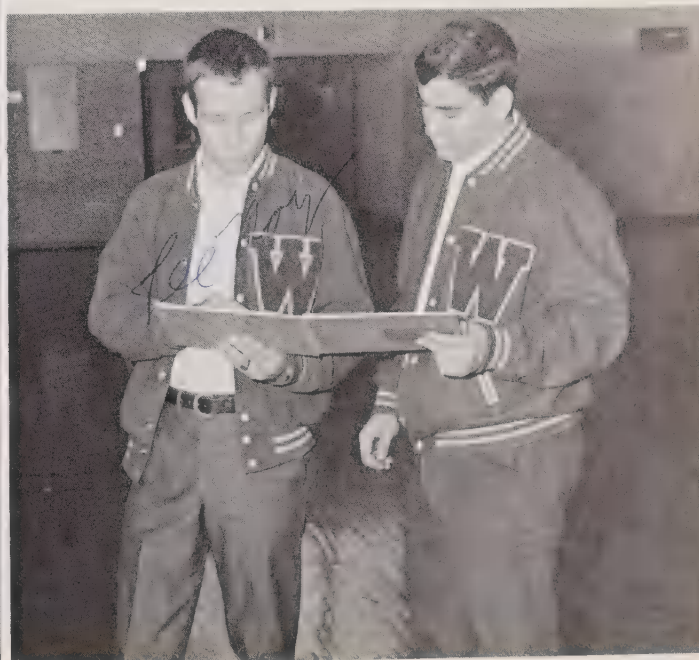

Hilliard jumps over his guard to score two points for Wadesboro.

One of the many jobs of managers, John Gray and Calvin Treadaway, is to tape up the players before a game.

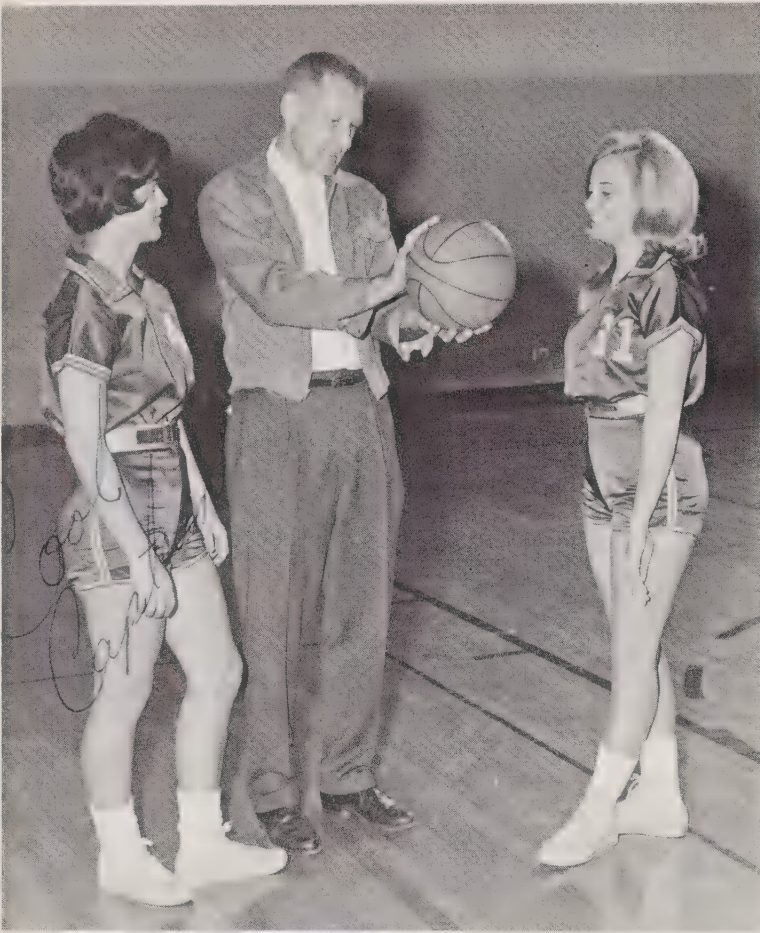

Through both victory and defeat "our boys" developed a spirit of devotion for both the team and the game. Helping the Tigers strip the net, ring the hook, and block the opponent were the shrieks and shrills from hundreds of fans in our new gym. No one worked harder than these boys to bring home a victory for their school, for their classmates, for their coach, and for their own self-satisfaction.

It is very important that the scorekeepers, Lee Roy Lookabill and Don McLaurin, keep accurate accounts of all games.

1966 GIRLS'

Neat!

This year's girls' basketball team worked hard and faithfully to give the spectators not only a game filled with good sportsmanship but a feeling of pride in our school.

All of the girls playing, whether they were returnees or new members, worked solidly behind the coach to produce a team our school could be proud of. This team certainly lacked nothing in determination and perseverance.

Coach and Co-captains discuss team strategy before the game.

BASKETBALL

Susan Mills tries for another two points.

Through the strenuous practice demanded by Coach Kephart, they developed the skills of dribbling, shooting, and guarding, which were to serve them well against their many opponents.

Who is going to get the ball?

The thudding of the basketball across the polished floor, the shouts of the crowd, and the real teamwork and sportsmanship of the girls provided for a popular season of basketball.

Susan Mills really jumps for that ball.

The managers of the girls' basketball team are Joyce Currie and Frankie Lineberry.

Don't slow down now, you've got a long way to go!

It has been said that track is one of the toughest of all sports, and the Wadesboro Tigers avidly supported this statement as they prepared for another profitable season.

There was a noticeable air of confidence at the team's pre-season workouts, and the team members endeavored eagerly in preparation for the first meet.

We are proud of all the boys on the track team for upholding Wadesboro's fine tradition of success and good sportsmanship throughout the season.

As the days begin to grow longer and the weather starts to warm up, W.H.S. baseball players gather to indulge in our national past-time.

Although the Tigers lost several good players at graduation there was still a solid foundation of experienced players on which Coach Bill Merritt could build another winning team. Many talented newcomers were added to the team from the ranks of the underclassmen, and the Tigers appeared to be ready for another close race for the conference crown.

Wrestling at W.H.S. has taken great strides since its beginning. Many of the boys in past years have become state championship material.

The greatest advantage of wrestling is that it builds confidence. There are no set qualifications for a wrestler if one is willing to sacrifice a part of himself. Being an individual sport, wrestling builds great self-confidence.

STUDENT LIFE

"As Time Goes By," we, the students of Wadesboro High School, are bound together to learn, to seek, to understand, and to enjoy four short years, years of excitement, years of spirit.

As freshmen, we dream of the coming ideals and standards set before us. We experience a new feeling—a feeling of joy, a feeling of uncertainty. Our dream has begun; four years of togetherness await our future.

Two years go by, a smart sophomore and then at last an upperclassman. Our minds are turning with new ideas, new friends, new ambitions.

As juniors and seniors, we enjoy special privileges and varied activities.

But, alas, as time goes by, we find our four years drawing to an end. Our dreams are coming true. The student life we have enjoyed for so short a period is now ending, ending one phase of our lives and beginning the most important part of our future.

FRESHMEN

For the Freshman Class the first year of high school was mainly one of adjustments. They had to adjust not only to a new schedule and set of regulations, but also to the fact that they were last in almost everything. This was the year that showed the freshmen the importance of an education. It was filled with many memorable and exciting activities for the freshmen such as meeting new faces, making lasting friendships with upperclassmen, the changing of classes, playing football and basketball for the junior varsity, and receiving their first Tiger Tales. But for the freshman class, the best is yet to come.

SOPHOMORES

Although the glory of being a sophomore was very much as they had dreamed it would be, the sophomores found that the school work — English, science, history, and algebra really had not changed much except that it became a little harder. However, on the other hand, the class found activities — pep rallies, games, clubs, and dances — to be even more fun than before. Many students were invited to join honor societies, others were chosen to play on varsity teams; and others were elected to responsible offices. These activities, academic and social, which seemed to make the time pass so rapidly have brought the sophomores to the threshold of the long awaited world of the upperclassmen.

The Class of '68?

This year the juniors have become a very real and important part of Wadesboro High. The successful magazine sale led the juniors toward the most important event of the year — Junior-Senior. They were also very proud of the junior first-place winning float in the annual homecoming parade. The arrival of class rings was another big event of the junior's year. In addition to these new extra-curricular activities, they have confronted and conquered strange new subjects such as geometry and chemistry. The juniors started preparing themselves for future years by taking the college board and other such tests. As the year drew to a close the class eagerly awaited the announcement of the Junior Marshals and other awards. This year has been one full of hard work and times. The juniors, now as time goes by, eagerly await the coming year as being privileged seniors.

THE HALLS OF IVY

Oh, we love THE HALLS OF IVY that surround us here today,
And we will not forget tho' we be far,
far away,
To the hallow'd HALLS OF IVY ev'ry voice will bid farewell.
And shimmer off in twilight like the old vesper bell.

One day a hush will fall, the footsteps of us all
Will echo down the hall and disappear,
But as we sadly start our journeys far apart,
A part of every heart will linger here
In the sacred HALLS OF IVY, where we've lived to know,
That thro' the years we'll see you in the sweet afterglow.

SENIOR ADVISORS

The senior advisers are making a last minute check before going to a class meeting. They are responsible for advising the seniors throughout the year. They try to make this year the best year of all for the graduating class.

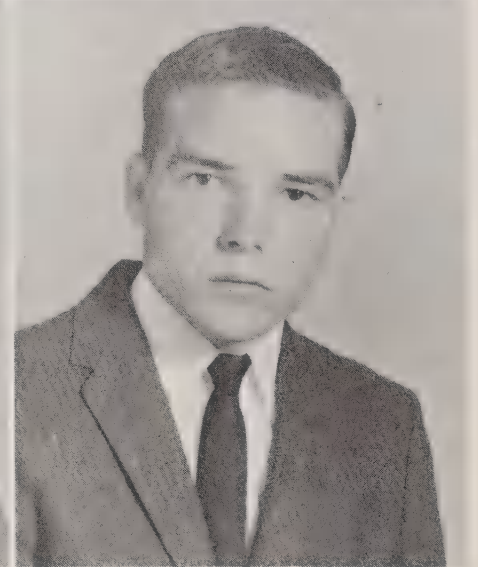

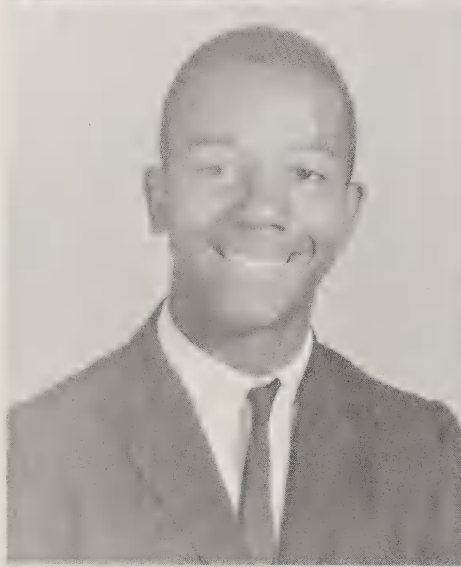

Mr. David Kephart, Mr. Joe Litaker, and Mrs. Joe Litaker

SENIOR CLASS

As the seniors' year is drawing to a close, each of them will silently look back on the four wonderful years they have spent at Wadesboro High — their Alma Mater. The seniors remember the day the class received its class rings, the pep meetings and the final football game. They glance with reluctance at college board exams and reflect on things learned on college day. The last Junior-Senior is now close behind the senior class and all that remains is graduation. They are proud of their class which has brought distinction to Wadesboro High School. The Class of '67 is one that will not soon be forgotten. As the familiar words "Dear Alma Mater. . ." are said for the final time, the seniors will know that as time has gone by, they have come to know the true meaning of Alma Mater.

1966 JUNIOR MARSHALS

Each year the ten students from the Junior Class having the highest academic average are the Junior Marshals for commencement activities. Those serving as Marshals in 1966 were— FIRST ROW: Jonatha Wildermuth, Sharon Pigg, Rena Tarlton, Lyn Redfearn. SECOND ROW: Betty Bost, Candy Wagner, Jane Nix. THIRD ROW: Frankie Lineberry, Darwin Ratliff, Rick Matthews.

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time;

Footprints, that perhaps another,
Sailing o'er life's solemn main,
A forlorn and shipwrecked brother,
Seeing, shall take heart again.

Let us, then, be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Before the dancing began everyone gathered in the lobby to exchange greetings.

Time spent on decorations proved to be worthwhile.

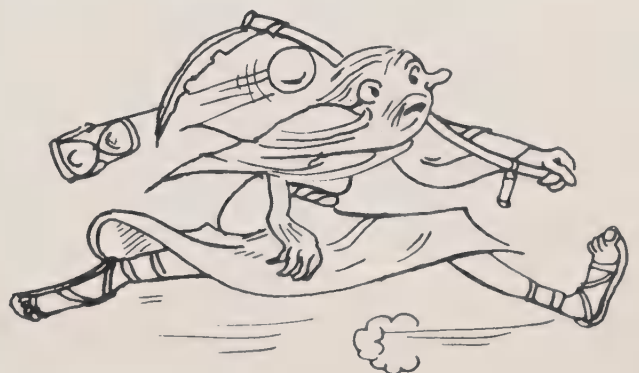

For many students Junior-Senior is one of the biggest events of the year. This dance, sponsored by the juniors of W.H.S. is the last formal dance in the senior year. The decorations, the excitement, and the feeling that the year is drawing to a close makes it even more exciting for the seniors. For the juniors the night comes with mixed feelings, for they know they will soon be in the seniors place and they do not know whether to be glad or sad. All the different feelings make for a night of grandeur and happiness that will not soon be forgotten by anyone.

ADVERTISEMENTS

As the last faint ray of sunlight sinks beyond the horizon, one year draws to a close with a feeling of gratitude toward those who helped to enrich another day of learning and guidance. Also, without the service and devotion of the merchants, our lives at W.H.S. would not be complete.

He gives us a moral boost as well as financial support to aid in any project at our school. To you, the merchant, we acknowledge an everlasting friendship that shall endure "As Time Goes By."

Dear Dood (Kath)

This year our friendship has certainly grown. The great times we've had will always be a cherished memory of my high school days. Late parties at Wag's, the talks and rides with Junior, and now we have Mother's Day weekend car  up. We won't have much time, just think we will.

What about our talks and problems?! If we ever get straightened out it will shock the world apart. That is the day I'm waiting for. If ever two people could get in over their heads it was us.

Your ANSON COUNTY NEW CAR DEALERS ASSOCIATION George and my problem. Can't wait Battle problem.

To see how it all ^{will} actually turn out in the end.

Kathryn, I would write you what a great girl you are but I won't. I couldn't find the words, even if I had to.

To tell you what your friendship, this year, has meant to me. These few words I'll leave with you.  don't ever give  up and

Keep your head up high. As the years go by I only hope to see our friendship increase. I'm positive that your future holds the best life has to offer, because a wonderful person like yourself deserves nothing but the best. God Bless you always.

Kathryn,

Although I'm not a junior, I'll still write in your annual
I hope your class doesn't really hate the Soph. class because of... well - anyway! This year was really great for me! I just loved it - every moment! I'll be a junior next year... where?... I don't know. We probably ~~we~~ would have had a blast on the cheerleader squad next year. But because of the — we can't!
I hope we can have more great times together in the future.

Kathryn,
This has been a wonderful first year of high school for me and I am sure it has been just what being a junior. I have enjoyed being in study hall with you this year and also enjoying some of the parties the juniors have had. Good luck next year

Your eyes had once,

William Butler Yeats

The days of the years of our pilgrimage number one thousand and four hundred and sixty. The sand runs out in the hour glass and Father Time is disappearing through another door. "Let us not defer nor neglect anything, for we shall not pass this way again." Every door is about to be locked, every shutter drawn. An invisible hand has written "finis" across this page which ends another chapter of our lives. But as Franklin D. Roosevelt wrote: the only limit to our realization of tomorrow will be our doubts of today. Let us move forward with strong the food!

What a year this has been! so many things have happened! But they haven't been at all like last year!

But I guess that is all for the better!

I shall no longer have to be this year. Next year you will be gone but I'll keep in touch with you.

I'll miss you and all our good times. I've forgot the ones we've already had.

Be sweet and behave.

Love,
"Dad"

I'm sorry I wrote up such a long letter. I had the book turned right since Jack wrote this way.

Me Dad.

This has really been a great year, hasn't it?

We have really had some great times, in school and on our trips out of town during breakless and football season.

We have also had some very interesting trips, which I will never even forget. Of anybody has had some nice parties, deep down to the body of the heart, too, I have.

Our up and down have all come out for the better, even though we haven't had too many down.

I really don't know what I'll do with you gone, next year. I'm sure you are Hall, but I promise. If you will write me, I'll write you again.

While you are away, think about me at Beulman.

I'll never forget our good times we have had.

I'll not get them in the next year.

Good luck in all you do, and behave. One of these days you will receive all of the money I have for want and deserve, especially me!

Love ya,

Dear Kathryn,

How are you this morning? Fine, I hope. We had an "interesting" year, haven't we? Mostly it's been trouble but of course trouble vent dire fun in any language.

We haven't been as close lately but we did get into a bit of trouble at the first part of the year. You and your damn briars at your window! I've still got scars! We had some nice midnight rides, didn't we? I'll never forget parking in the cemetery and confessing our sins! We've confessed several sins in the past year! What about the night you confessed the biggest one of the year and I sat there and cracked up!! Poor kid... Sorry about that. Boy did you ever play hell with a certain person this year! The main one, that is. Thank the Lord Uncle Sam came along before you could get into any more. Oh heavens, what about that night at abbies? (You just knew you were dead and buried didn't you?) (You've had some "marvy" dates this year and I've enjoyed hearing about them. Your taste I sometimes question but I'm sure you do the same so it all comes out in the wash! Oh Lord, what about that night in your room when we were feeling "good" and had something at the window? Let's forget that one? Nice strip show? How about those times we had to "clean the carburetors"? Unreal!

Well Kathryn, best of luck in the future... riding with me it'll take a little luck to help you live through it! Get it anyway you can!

Seriously, Kathryn, remember always to live and love each day as though there was no tomorrow. ~~Don't~~ Don't hope for the future... but don't look for it... or wait for it. Get all you can out of this life because it's the only one you is gonna have, white girl! Don't waste tears over yesterday's mistakes because you have to prepare for tomorrow. There's so little time to do anything, anything at all. Life is so, so short. Make those days worth remembering by not hurling a poppy or stepping on the little ant with bread in his mouth. Sincere kindness goes so far. Be good, woman, and remember your wild ass buddy Ann, through the years that follow. Love, Ann

Kathryn,

Did somebody say something about hair on a chest or gold St. Crisp's? Kathryn - let me hold your hand - CHEAP! It's all there is to it - pure cheapness.

This year really has gone by fast - In a way I'm glad and then in a way I'm sad. Glad because we'll finally be able to go to the beach and sad because you won't be here next year. Speaking of the beach - I personally think that its going to be bad and I definitely think that you'll will do several numbers this week end. If there's one thing that mother is going to disappoint, its going to be because she won't let me go to O.D. Seems like all we did this year is get trouble from every possible angle. Our mothers were either hollering at us or Mest or Ricky and then there came the grounding and the tears and then the yelling and more yelling and more cuss words that you could count. But then there were those great memories of cheering and getting excited every morning that came along and all of those talks and rides and hair on chests. It's really been a great year.

You've been a real friend to me this year Kathryn and I'm hoping I can depend on you whenever I need someone because I'm going to be right here expecting you to depend on me for anything you need. If you go off next year, I'm going to come see you. Richard, George & I will come on up to Vardel Hall and blow it out. I'm also expecting to get letters and letters and letters from you. I'm going to miss you too Kathryn. But, after next year, I'm going to be leaving, and then, you can come visit me. Okay?

In closing I want to thank you again for all the help & love given to me this year. Don't ever change and just stay the same as you are now and you will always have the very best?

Love you,

Reserved Libby

Dear Kathryn,

Where in the world do I began? We have been up to so much this year --- all of it, just about, was naughty and mischievous, but boy did we have a heck of a lot of fun. I guess the time we will always remember is our famous tour of McFarlen. Not that we spent 2 hours and a tank of gas cruising around lonely dirt roads just to be sneaky! Now, I ask you McLeod, will we ever be sneaky again? Wasn't it fun making that picture? I thought I would pass out with laughter. Remember the other night that you and I and those 2 guys went out to P.T.'s house and spent the ~~span~~ night playing pool and listening to Red Foxx albums? We weren't even sleepy the next day!

Now about the good times we spent in D. Math drooling over Coach Johnson's sexy bod and then cut him down the next minute for being sarcastic. We've just got to take him to the beach with us. Remember when he left to go to a track meet and we left 5 minutes later and skipped 6th period? What if we had run into him? Oh no! Now about getting thrown out of Miss Stielman's room?!

Remember at the beach last year how you, Gay, and I stuck together because we were waiting on our "men" to come. This year we are going to start fresh and break some boys hearts for once! We probably won't get snowed the first day!

We've had some mighty serious talks and we've helped each other a lot. It's great to know that I have a friend who is willing and ready to go to almost any expense to help me. That friend is you, Kathryn. We seem to get along so well together and can talk as two close friends should be able to talk. I hope this friendship of ours will grow over the years. Whenever we are next year I know will keep in touch, because 2 people can't go through what we've been through and then forget about each other. I want to wish you the best that life and love has to offer and I hope that someday you will find the special something you have been searching for.

LOVE ALWAYS,

Libby (Lip)

Dear Gordy,

Well I guess I'd better write small because I'm definitely got a lot to say. We're really had some great times. New York and your inguain, our pool games, and the beach. Oh I just about left out the best, cheering - We're really done a lot together and everything has really been great. Cheering this year was fabulous. I couldn't have asked for a better squad or single cheerleader, you!! Would you also believe counting leaves one night. How about the beach Mother's Day two years ago. We had our problems but I think everything has just about worked out. I know that your ear drum is sore from my big mouthed problems. I thank for listening and helping. I guess that time of my life would have been worse than it was if you hadn't been there. New York of course was fabulous. I just wish we could do it again. I think I would make a few changes (Know what I mean) you and me and Retard ^{and Lou} are going to have to get together sometime and have a good session. (After Retard gets settled) Well I guess I'd better start closing so Lou will have some room. Gordy you can't imagine how much your friendship means to me. You're a great gal and I know your future will be filled with happiness and success. Good luck at school next year. Come to see me at UNC-G. I love you Gordy. Get a Rippy -

Love to a great girl,
Candy

Goodie, we have had so many great times together that I do not know where to start. Those Ball games were real cool! Best of all cheering. We had fun going to Silver City - The other games were lots of fun, too! You and I have really had our problems but it helped make the year better. I will never forget our trips to the East. We can really do anything we want if we try hard enough. We can really do anything we want if we try hard enough. I hope you attend Vardell with me. We could really get that school right. We would more than likely get kicked out after the first two days. I do hope you get to go - If you do of them we will be separated. Good-bye is that going to be? Your friendship means more to me than I can express in words, because there are no words that great. We had our ups and downs but then we will always be friend. Friendship is forever! I hate to leave W.D.D. It is really sad but I hope most of all that things will work out for you and the rest here at home - Gordy, you will go far in life because you have the qualities to do what you want to do. You are the greatest and I love you. Sincerely I wish you the best of happiness and success in any way of the future - I know God will be there to guide and guard. Just remember to maintain your cool and stay it real. Please, stay free it works out better and keeps you happy. I want you to be happy all the time. Do very deserving girl I give you best wishes and the best of life, happiness.

Love you,
Lou
